AimBank announces acquisition of First State Bank of Miami

AimBank is excited to announce the completed acquisition of First State Bank of Miami with locations in Miami and Pampa, Texas. The expansion into the panhandle will provide us with great opportunity to expand our geographic footprint and diversify our business sectors. This acquisition enhances our ongoing effort to broaden our services in the South Plains, Permian Basin and Panhandle regions by adding $40 million dollars in assets to AimBank.

“These are exciting times for AimBank as we expand into more regions of West Texas. The expansion into the Texas Panhandle is a natural fit with our current loan and deposit portfolio in the other West Texas markets we are currently serving,” remarked Scott Wade, CEO. “AimBank is committed to the growth in our communities through helping local businesses stay viable and strong. Our new locations will continue to provide excellent customer service with the expertise of a sophisticated financial institution.”

AimBank will maintain a strong tradition of offering quality banking services while keeping up with the latest technology for our ever-changing customer needs. The combination of AimBank facilities and a network of ATM’s located at over 500 Stripes stores throughout Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma provides previous First State Bank customers with new added conveniences.

About AimBank

AimBank was originally chartered on September 19, 1925 as the First National Bank of Littlefield. Due to the perseverance on the part of its officers and staff, the bank withstood the Great Depression, a world war, and various booms and busts in the agriculture and energy markets. In 2003, the bank was converted to a state-chartered bank and ownership is now vested in AimBank employees and local investors. AimBank has continually grown and expanded our presence into several markets over the years, including Littlefield, Levelland, Lubbock, Wolfforth, Snyder, Midland, Odessa, Miami and Pampa with over $480 million in assets.
